Human Subjects / IRB Process

All UCLA key personnel conducting human research are required to complete human subjects protection training through an online program called the Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative (CITI).

BruinIRB is UCLA's internet-based software application for the submission and review of research projects involving human subjects.

CITI Training Verification

UCLA OHRPP has created a CITI training lookup tool to search study team members and confirm any active and/or expired CITI trainings.

https://ohrpp.research.ucla.edu/citi-training/

Scroll down to the “CITI Training Lookup Tool” and click the hyperlink. Login with single sign on (either campus or mednet).

You can search the individual name(s) of the study team members you would like to validate CITI training.

Mandatory Online CITI Training for Key Personnel

All UCLA key personnel conducting human research are required to complete human subjects protection training through an online program called the Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative (CITI). Review the FAQs About CITI Training for registration instructions and training details. Sign up to complete the UCLA Human Subjects Protection training. You can also enroll in the Good Clinical Practice and Responsible Conduct in Research courses, but these courses are optional for most people.

If you have questions, please read the IRB Training Requirements or check with your supervisor.

Learn at Lunch and Noontime Education Series

OHRPP offers two types of hour-long training sessions for UCLA research staff and faculty: Learn at Lunch and Noontime Education Series. Please subscribe to investigators-l-subscribe@lists.ucla.edu for announcements for upcoming sessions.

Privacy and Confidentiality Education and Training

HIPAA information can be found on ResearchGo. Please contact the Privacy Office at (310) 983-3143 with questions about privacy issues and the Office of Compliance Services with questions about HIPAA training.

Additional Training Resources

Customized OHRPP classes and presentations are available on a range of topics to fit your needs. To schedule a training or presentation:

- Call or e-mail the Director or Associate Director to discuss your needs.
- Visit the OHRPP Training Upon Request page to learn more about requesting a presentation tailored to your needs.
- For general IRB education, requests, and assistance, please send an e-mail inquiry to: OHRPPEQI@research.ucla.edu

NIH Clinical Trials & Human Subjects Requirements & Guidelines

The UCLA Clinical and Translational Science Institute (CTSI) Grants Submission Unit (GSU) has put together a number of tools and resources to clarify the requirements for NIH applications regarding human subjects and clinical trial policies. These resources reflect changes in FORMS-H, which are effective for applications due on or after January 25, 2023, and are meant to help guide you through the requirements, based on the type of studies you are proposing within your application.

OHRPP IRB Submissions

The Office of Human Research Protection Program supports an internet-based software IRB electronic submission system to manage the submission, review, and approval of research projects involving human subjects. The electronic IRB submission system is designed to branch in response to information provided about the study procedures. The system requires an account that uses the single sign-on UCLA Logon ID credential.

BruinIRB: Submission and review of all active studies is managed in BruinIRB as of July 1, 2025. See BruinIRB Deployment FAQs for more information.

webIRB: Access to webIRB was deactivated for researchers as of 07/01/2025. Active studies have been migrated to the replacement BruinIRB application.

Please contact BruinIRB@research.ucla.edu with any questions.

Consult the BruinIRB Resource Library for quick guides, training videos, and other information.

For general questions, contact the OHRPP staff at 310-825-5344 or by email: Staff Directory | UCLA Office of the Human Research Protection Program
